WALTER A. WOOD

NEW CENTURY BINDER

This binder has a world-wide reputation. In every grain growing country under the sun it is said to be the best yet by all who use it or see it work. The features that appeal most to its users are:—lightness of draft; handiness of operation; durability of construction; ability to do perfect work in any kind of grain; accuracy and sure work of knotters; absence of neck weight and side draft. The New Century is the latest type of binder, made by the people who gave the world its first successful binder, and now give it its most successful one—a binder that will do work no other machine can do.

It is constructed on principles and from materials that insure more work, better work, longer life and reduced repair bills with less loss of time. We'd like to send you our free catalog describing it in full before you decide on which binder to buy.

WALTER A. WOOD MOWERS

Are Different From All Others

When the late Walter A. Wood built his first mower in 1884 it was upon a principle entirely different from any other. That same principle today distinguishes our mowers from all others. It is the "floating frame" described so fully in our catalog. All manufacturers of mowers admit that the "direct under-draft" principle is the correct one—but they can't use it because genuine underdraft is possible only with the "floating frame" construction which is exclusive to Walter A. Wood Mowers. We feel justified in asserting that our mowers are: the easiest running; lightest draft; handiest to operate; least expensive to keep in repair and longest lived. The mower that leads on these points is the mower it will pay the farmer to buy. There are many other good points fully illustrated and described in our Catalog. Write for it today.

We are making special inducements in order to introduce this line of Machines. Call and see them before you buy.

—Postmaster R. B. Boulden received a letter a few days ago from a well-known Knoxville firm asking him send them a few pounds of shale at their expense, saying if it was as represented as a fertilizer, a firm would open a $75,000 plant here in the near future.

Shale is a blue strata of soft stone found below the hard limestone and is very valuable as a fertilizer. It is found in large quantities in the Caldwell lead mines near town. Last spring the State Geologist visited this mine for the purpose of examining the shale. He sprinkled a small quantity on portion of a wheat field of Mr. Caldwell. The result was the heads were more than nine inches long, well filled with a heavy grain that graded high above the average. He also sprinkled a small quantity on the ground in which tomato plants were afterwards set. These plants are now bearing, notwithstanding the recent dry weather, tomatoes exceedingly large and of a superior quality. The shale has been shipped to the parties at Knoxville and will be given a thorough test. It is claimed there are several qualities of it. From the successful experiments that have been tried, that obtained from this section seems to be the best. The Caldwell mines have sent out quite a large quantity of lead and barite since last March, several cars having been shipped in the last few weeks.

Her condition grew worse from that time to the end. Her step-son, W. R. Gill, Jr., died about two weeks ago, and her husband, W. R. Gills, Sr., passed away last August. Mrs. Gill was a sister of Mrs. James H. Arthur, who moved from the community to Carlisle last fall. Mrs. Arthur buried her mother in June of 1907, and her husband the following August, Mr. Arthur and Mr. Gill dying within a few days of each other.
